DOYLESTOWN MAKES CHANGE IN RENTAL CHARGE FOR SEWERS

Cost To Ordinary Users Is To Be Increased Under New Ordinance

BILLS PAID QUARTERLY

Borough Income To Be Increased About $2000
Annually

DOYLESTOWN, May 23—Borough council is taking steps to put the water and sewer services on a business basis and with this plan in mind an ordinance passed first reading which fixes and prescribes rental charges for the use, operation and maintenance of the sanitary sewer system.

When the ordinance is finally passed, after a few minor changes, consumers will be paying their sewer and water bill quarterly, with both bills sent out on the same notice, an efficient and tested system now in operation in many other well-regulated boroughs.

When the new ordinance becomes a law it will mean an increase in the borough income of approximately $2,000 annually.

It will also mean that some large plants now paying a very small portion of the sewer charge they should pay, will pay more, while private homes will have their sewer charge boosted.

It means that all properties must be connected with the sewer wherever possible. The new ordinance may not get into operation before next September or October.

The ordinance provides that the annual sewer rental or service charge for each house or other building connected with or that can be connected with the existing sewer and receiving service, shall be $8 annually, payable in quarterly installments of $2 each on the first day of January, April, July and October.

Another section follows: "That in addition to the annual sewer rental or service charge there shall be levied and collected a further rental based upon metered water consumption equal to one-third of the quarterly charge for water billed upon the property served by the sanitary sewers and said additional rental shall be payable quarterly."

Another very important section of the ordinance is as follows:

"That all hotels, factories or other industries or businesses which are not consumers of borough water under the existing meter system and which discharge large quantities of water into the sanitary sewer system of Doylestown, shall be charged for the use of the sanitary sewer at the rate of $1 per year, for each and every employee or other person working in, or about the premises occupied by such hotels, factories or other industries or businesses at the time the rentals established in the ordinance become effective and at the beginning of each fiscal year thereafter with a minimum charge at the rate of $35 per year payable quarterly."

Borough Council may, in special cases not contemplated in the rate schedule, establish special rates or rentals they deem necessary to keep and maintain its sewerage system and sewage treatment plant on a proper basis.

If Council finds, under the new ordinance, that it is making a great deal of money on the suggested rate schedule,

The Rev. Andrew G. With other men he left this week for Normandy, Tennessee, to engage in field work.

In writing of his activities as chaplain at Fort Custer, the Rev. Andrew G. Solla says: "The brief assignment at Reception Center has been the most interesting one that I have ever had in the Army. I have met thousands of the finest young men from all walks of life"

The last written message presented by Capt. Solla to the men at Fort Custer just before leaving that camp, and which appeared in the camp publication "Salute," follows:

"No one can deny the fact that we are going through a period of stress and strain. The uncertainty of tomorrow weighs heavily upon our minds. Young men in the service sometimes find it difficult to get adjusted to the new mode of living and fresh ways of doing things. Just the leaving of one's family roof is quite an ordeal. We miss the familiar surroundings. The voice of a mother, a wife, a sweetheart, or a child, no longer gladdens one's heart.

"It is true that mail, telephone and other means of getting in touch with our dear ones help a lot. But, still, none of these will take the place of

EATING THE SEED CORN

A witness before the Congressional Ways and Means Committee a few days ago said the present tax system was like "eating your seed corn instead of planting it." His reference to seed corn brought up thoughts of the past—of 1857, to be exact, when Lord Macaulay, the eminent British historian, essayist and statesman, wrote to the Hon. H. S. Randall of New York.

Lord Macaulay, in his letter, prophesied dire things for democracy in the future. This is the future of which he wrote. Bluntly, he said, "I have long been convinced that institutions purely democratic must sooner or later, destroy liberty or civilization or both."

Lord Macaulay predicted economic distress in the United States when it ceases to have a "boundless extent of fertile and unoccupied land." He wrote:

"Distress everywhere makes the laborer mutinous and discontented, and inclines him to listen with eagerness to agitators who tell him that it is a monstrous iniquity that one man should have a million while another cannot get a full meal."

Isn't this reminiscent of New York orators of the nineteen thirties?

"I have seen England three or four times pass through such critical seasons as I have described. Through such seasons as the United States will have to pass, in the course of the next century if not of this. How will you pass through them? I heartily wish you good deliverance. But my reasons and my wishes are at war, and I cannot help foreboding the worst."

But England is still a democracy.

"I seriously apprehend that you will, in some such season of adversity as I have described, do things which will prevent prosperity from returning; that you will act like people in a year of scarcity, devour all the seed corn, and thus make the next a year not of scarcity but of absolute failure. There will be, I fear, spoliation. The spoliation will increase distress. The distress will produce fresh spoliation. There is nothing to say you."

"As I said before, when society has entered on this downward progress, either civilization or liberty must perish. Either some Caesar or Napoleon will seize the reins of government with a strong hand, or your republic will be a fearfully plundered one and will be laid waste by barbarians in the twentieth century as the Roman empire was in the fifth. With this difference, that the Huns and Vandals who ravaged the Roman empire came from without, and that your Huns and Vandals will have engendered within your country by your own institutions."

Lord Macaulay's dismal forecast was made some 84 years ago, but world events of the past decade preclude dismissal of his forebodings as outdated thought. The resources of this nation make a time of seed corn consumption seem far distant. Yet perplexing times are as much in the future as in the present.

Huns and Vandals are within the nation's borders today. The problem is to meet these savages with the strength of American institutions. Lord Macaulay's letter is a warning.

A strike, explained a baseball fan who could be a commentator on general news, is when one has an opportunity to hit the ball but does not do it.

sage was greatly enjoyed. Father Daly, introduced by vice-president John J. Bridgeman, was a classmate at St. Charles Seminary of the Rev. Father Fogarty, of Doylestown. Father Daly is a native of Limerick, Ireland.

Father Daly, who came to Newtown from the coal regions of Pennsylvania, told why the football players that come from the Hazleton section are usually real tough. "They do most of their practicing when kids, on the rocks and mountains of the hard coal section," he said.

Father Daly made a plea for tolerance in this country.

"To me, living in America is a distinct privilege," Father Daly declared. "You can express your appreciation better here than in any country in the world. So let's be tolerant at all times with the Gentile, Jew, white or black. Let's remain neutral and take no sides in this present great calamity overseas. Let's all remain united here in the United States today, not against either Germany or England."

Yes, those words will be just as comforting for you and my burdened souls today as they were for the burdened souls of the people of the first century of our Era.

"All these precious promises we find in the Bible. Because it contains such wonderful promises as these, it is the most practical book. The Bible, more than any other book, faces the facts of life. It tells of countless people in trouble who have found refuge in prayer to the throne of a gracious and kind heavenly father. The psalmist said: 'I cried to God in my distress, and He heard me.'

"So let not loneliness and change of environment get the best of us, but rather overcome these difficulties by sharing them with the benevolent and gracious God. Then we shall hear His voice: 'Lo, I am with you even unto the end of this present age!'

FASHION PAIN

By Orry Kelly
(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Fashions to delight the happy heart of a girl of sixteen are the designer's perennial problem. Those for the screen sixteen-year-old girls are no exception.

These clothes become a pleasant problem because she has more moods than her more adult sisters. By day she's somewhat of a tomboy, by night she changes her wings and becomes very feminine.

With Jean Leslie, one of the most charming of sixteen year olds in Hollywood, as a model we'd like to outline some of the clothes the girl of this age should and will wear.

During those hectic days that only possible. She hasn't the poise as yet like Joan can keep up with we recommend flat-heeled shoes, bobbed socks, head kerchiefs, pleated skirts and simple frocks. Freedom in movement is what she likes and should therefore have. Since older girls are wearing practically the same things, just a shade more sophisticated perhaps, she won't feel that her clothes are too youthful.

For "The Wagons Roll At Night" designer Milt Anderson interprets Joan's maturing youth in semi-collegiate styles of this type. She wears washable prints and pleated redingotes, silk-on-sweaters and skirts with various types of pleats and one with a knee slit a la the current mode.

For evening, Joan flares forth in long gowns but with full skirts. Her favorite has a taffeta skirt and an even eyelet top which cuts an irregular swath at the hip line. These gowns should be youthful but still on the glamor side. She may wear black or white lace, pink or blue satin. All manner of cottons are her dish this summer.

Black and dark browns are avoided in Joan's wardrobe unless they are peppep up with gay colors.

Don't overdo the use of fur-trim. Tweeds, Scotch plaids and plain wool fabrics are much more suitable for the very young girls.

Tailored suits are in order out with jackets cut to medium length, or very short; the bolero type is ideal.

Her hats should remain as plain as possible. She hasn't the poise as yet

Claims French Will Not War On Britain

Vichy, May 23—Vice Premier Admiral Jean Darlan assured the French people today that France will not declare war on England or hand over the French naval fleet or colonies to Germany.

In a nation-wide broadcast that reached the entire world, Darlan stated that Germany had not demanded French colonies or warships or a declaration of hostilities against the British.

A British radio broadcast relayed a "Free French" news agency report that "stories from the French frontier speak of Admiral Darlan's growing unpopularity and of violent demonstrations against him in Brittany."

Even as Darlan's words were broadcast, it had been confirmed that

French gold stored in the island of Martinique had been transferred to France for "Franco-German use."

Darlan declared that France can look forward to peace but added: "We must not forget that three-fifths of our territory is occupied and that 1,500,000 Frenchmen are prisoners. France had to choose between life and death."

The Government and Marshal Petain chose to live."

Germans Admit Prier is Lost

Berlin, May 23—Commander Guenther Prier, Germany's most famous submarine commander, has been lost with his U-boat at sea.

Loss of Prier, who guided his U-boat into Scapa Flow under the muzzles of British guns early in the war and sank the battleship Royal Oak, was revealed in a communiqué.

Claim Britain's Mediterranean Fleet is Crippled

Berlin, May 23—Great Britain's Mediterranean fleet has been crippled in attempted defense of Crete and defeat of that island may be announced by Sunday, reliable officials in Berlin said today.

Toward the German public, the German Government maintained strict silence concerning the Crete invasion. But foreign correspondents were told the Island would fall in what would prove to be "one of the greatest disasters for Britain."

The administration, fearing that relief payments would be curtailed, introduced in the Senate a bill appropriating $11,000,000 for immediate use on June 1, after House minority leaders Robert Woodside warned the House Democratic majority that "as now appears evident" relief checks will not be mailed out on June 2 to the thousands of relief clients.

In addition, the Crete campaign will demonstrate that sea power is no match for Marshal Goering's Luftwaffe.

German estimates say that between two and three British divisions, a minimum of 30,000 men are in Crete. Their capture is held to be inevitable, while two Greek divisions under King George 2nd also face surrender or annihilation. Since Wednesday, Berlin informants said, all important air fields in Crete are held by Germans.

Threaten Stoppage of State Government Functions

Harrisburg, May 23—A possible stoppage of state governmental functions, including payment of relief checks, is threatened on June 1, despite the speed of the House in re-enacting the administration's emergency tax program, GOP leaders said today.

Democratic spokesmen termed the warning just a "scare," adding that if the Republican Senate did its work expeditiously there was no need for any delay.

Playhouse Season To Open Week Earlier Than Last Year

With the opening of its 1941 summer season only two weeks distant, plans for the Bucks County Playhouse are rapidly being completed by Kenyon Nicholson and Theron Bamberg, who will again direct the destinies of the attractive rural theatre at New Hope, which is now firmly established as one of the outstanding summer playhouses.

Following the opening attraction—already announced as Charles Butterworth in "George Washington Slept Here"—the theatre will offer beginning June 16th, "Ladies In Retirement," the English thriller which has just completed a season on Broadway and another season on tour.

"Ladies In Retirement" will be followed by Pauline Lord in a revival of Arnold Bennett's famous comedy, "The Great Adventure," the week of June 23rd. One of the outstanding events of the season will be the production of "The Man Who Came To Dinner," in which George Kaufman and Moss Hart themselves will appear the week of August 4th.

Because of the success of last year's productions and the growing popularity of the Playhouse in the community, the 1941 season will open a week earlier than last year. Also in the nature of an innovation is the decision to open the season on Friday night instead of Saturday. The first performance of "George Washington Slept Here" will be given on Friday evening, June 6th, followed by another performance on Saturday night, June 7th, and the usual schedule of six evening performances the week of Monday, June 9th, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

GRAND THEATRE

Evidently Warner Bros. think that blondes prefer gentlemen and gentlemen prefer brunettes.

At any rate, they have made a heroine-villainess team of vividly blonde and dangerous-looking Brenda Marshall, who hails from Negros, Philippine Islands, and blonde Lee Patrick, who looks as wholesomely Scotch-Irish as she is.

So far the two ladies have matched wiles in two pictures, and the villainess is still pursuing Brenda's men. In "South of Suze" it was George Brent; it's Errol Flynn in "Footsteps in the day run.

Neil Hamilton, who portrays the part of a dauntless secret service agent in "Federal Fugitives," currently playing at the Bristol Theatre, is loud in his praise for the achievements of this nation's "secret service." Hamilton, when recently interviewed in the film capital explained that when he took part in this expose of fifth columnists, he became interested in the exploits of former government agents.

BENSALEM HIGH GIRLS WIN 4TH CHAMPIONSHIP, DEFEATING BRISTOL BY THE SCORE OF 26 TO 11

Smothering Bristol High by the score of 26-11, the Bensalem Township high school girls won another championship yesterday afternoon, making it four Lower Bucks County titles in a row. The crown won yesterday was the softball title and this was done without losing a game this season or last season, marking 14 consecutive wins for the Owlettes.

The Bensalemites have cleaned up everything that has come their way in the last two seasons. Starting with last season's softball ten, the team went through the season without a defeat to win the gonfalon. Following this they captured the crowns in basketball and hockey, although a championship playoff in basketball with Bristol was called off, the officials agreeing to have two winners.

Yesterday's game climaxed the second undefeated softball team for the girls coached by Miss Helen Smith. To add to the woes of the other teams in the Lower Bucks softball circuit came the announcement yesterday that the Bensalem team of next season will be intact with the exception that Dot Doyle will be the only member of the team graduating in June.

Doyles played her "swan" game in left field and made a fine day of it by getting six hits in the same number of trips to the plate. One of her hits, in the seventh, was her fourth home run of the season and she added a rally in the sixth by crashing out a two-bagger.

The Bristol team was not as easily beaten as the score indicates. Coach Peg Royer's girls had plenty of fight and were "in" as far as the score goes until the Owlettes produced ten runs in the sixth. That was the ball game then and there.

The Bensalem girls got to Stella Klemczak in the first inning and before the inning was over five runs scampered across the plate. But this was no discouragement for the local girls who also got to the visiting pitcher Grace VanHorn for a quintet of runs.

R. Bachofer opened the mele with a single. Dewsnap was of little help as she struck out. Klemczak kept it going with a hit and White drew a pass to fill the sacks. Sak stepped to the plate and promptly delivered a home run to deep left for four markers. Palowez flied out but B. Bachofer hit safely and so did Leinheiser and Vanzant for another run. Kwochwa ended the inning by whiffing.

The clubs were close to one another until the first half of the sixth when the Bensalem girls batted around and amassed ten runs, several of the girls getting two hits in this frame.

Vanzant started the works by singling and Meisinger lined out a homer to account for a pair of runs. But the rally was only started as Hughes hit safely and so did Runyan. Doyle socked out a double and later scored on a hit by Lamon. Ely and Criblear singled and VanHorn sent two runs across with a hit. VanHorn was caught napping for an out. Turner walked and VanHorn singled for a couple of more runs. Meisinger flied out and Hughes hit safely. But Runyan flied out for the third out.

Contented with a 15-run lead, Grace VanHorn, the Bensalem hurler, bore down in the last inning and struck out the side to run her total strike-outs of the game to nine, breaking her previous record of six.

The Smith-girls had a total of 37 range a schedule for the Bucks County

American Legion Junior League. The towns that will support them are Perkasie, Morrisville, Doylestown, Langhorne and Bristol. Hems is trying to arrange with a local club to use their ball field for Bristol home games.

TRAP SHOOTING CONTEST TO OPEN HERE SUNDAY

The rules call for one match to be held at each club grounds. All matches will consist of 50 birds. The other rules governing the shoots include the following:

ONE GAME IN LEAGUE SCHEDULED HERE TONIGHT

One game is scheduled for the Bristol Suburban League this evening, the St. Ann's team meeting Diamond on the St. Ann's diamond, Garden street and Jefferson avenue. Earlier in the season, these clubs played to a 4-4 deadlock.

An attempt was made to play the two games scheduled for last evening but rain stopped the proceedings in both instances. On Leedon's field, the Auto Boys were leading Badenhausen, 1-0, in the second when the game was postponed. Beisel had just scored McCue with a hit when the rain came. Rohm and Haas had a 4-0 lead on Fleetwings at the end of the third in their game at Maple Beach.

LEGION JUNIOR TEAM TO PRACTICE TOMORROW

The American Legion Junior Baseball candidates will again hold a practice on Leedon's Field tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. This will be the final day for boys to register for team.

Any boy living in Bristol or Bristol Township who was born in the year of 1924 or after is eligible.

Coach Morgan was very pleased with last week's turnout, 27 boys registering for team. Past County Chairman and Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 332, athletic officer Robert J. Hems has called a meeting for tonight at the Legion Home in Doylestown to arrange a schedule for the Bucks County

BENSALEM STILL TIED FOR LEAD WITH WIN OVER NEWTOWN IX

Hit Ball Hard To Enter Play-Off Game With Bristol Club

STRICKLER RAPS HOMER

Scheerer and Devoe Pace Owls' Batting Attack With Three Hits

By Jack GILL

Bensalem High School found the batting eyes they had during the forepart of the season yesterday at Newtown. By virtue of a slam bang sixteen hit attack, the Reimermen leveled Newtown and remained in a first place tie with Bristol. The Cornwells Heights aggregation had an easy time rolling up a commanding 13 to 4 triumph.

The victory ended the Lower Bucks division race up in a two way tie. The Bristol nine will meet the Owls in a championship play-off game at Lanthre Field Monday. Arrangements are underway to have the game played as a twilight affair, although the definite time has not yet been decided.

The Owls scored enough runs yesterday in the first inning to win the tray. Six markers crossed the platter as the Blue and Gray went out after their crucial battle with a determined attitude. Hamor opened up by doubling to left and Scheerer followed with a single to center that brought Hamor home. Bill George Strickler, capable first baseman, then rapped a long home run to left field that was good for two more markers. Killian beat out a hitnesday.
